COEX Chief Executive Officer Ken Noye recognised the success of the scheme to date, and the importance of building upon this success by continuing to provide Queenslanders with greater accessibility to the scheme.

“More than 1.87 billion containers have been returned through the scheme since its launch just over 18 months ago, a true demonstration of the passion Queenslanders have for recycling,” said Mr Noye.

“Container Refund Point operators play a valuable role in Queensland’s circular economy with containers returned through the scheme sold to accredited recyclers and manufactured into new products.
